

Core Principles or The Foundational Basis of Life

---

To generate a thematic reference,
from which the core principles can be inferred
there are four books
with which I would begin:

- 1) The Nature of Personal Reality, by Jane Roberts,
- 2) Journey of Souls, by Dr. Michael Newton, Ph.D.,
- 3) Destiny of Souls, by Dr. Michael Newton, Ph.D.,
- 4) Secret Oral Teachings of Tibetan Buddhist Sects
by Alexandra David-Neel.

The context of these four (4) books
can all be found in the eighteen (18) missing years
in the biography of Jesus.

This content can be discovered
by reading the Gnostic gospels:

- 1) The Nag Hammadi,
- 2) The readings of Edgar Cayce,
- 3) The Aquarian Gospel, by Levi Dowling,
- 4) The discovered biography of Saint Issa (Jesus).

The principles:

- 1) We create our own reality,
- 2) Anything and everything we believe either is true or tends to become true,
as a result of believing it,
- 3) Self is the only sin,
- 4) Everything is made out of consciousness,

Core Principles or The Foundational Basis of Life

---

- 5) Consciousness is the coemissive fundamental:
the self referencing domain and the other-than-self referencing domain,
- 6) We are intended to be morally self governed,
- 7) Physical reality is not the only reality
and is not the most important reality,
- 8) Choice is made possible
by means of the delay in consequences
granted by time and space,
- 9) Morality is not merely
controlling what you do,
but what you think,
what you imagine
and that to which you direct your attention.

The compounds, the combinations,
the inferences and the implications
following from these core principles, provide a template for life.

You are not your body.

You occupy your body.

You can separate from your body (out-of-body experience).

You can cease representational knowing.

You can know by connection.

Remote viewing of anything, anywhere, in any time

is possible, following discovered protocols

(see Mind Trek, etc., by Joseph McMoneagle).

Core Principles or The Foundational Basis of Life

---

We are culturally conditioned.

We are taught principles of free-standing existence

e.g. particles, objectivity, proof.

Everything and everyone is connected to everything and to everyone else.

Gradients position and posture

us and our thoughts and our imaginings.

Cause and effect ideas are linear simplifications.

There are interdependent sources, originations and progressions.

The grand scheme is organized by seven (7) headings:

1. matrix (of multiple dimensions)
2. potentiation (via state or motion)
3. catalyst (via media)
4. experience (as a flow of energy and events)
5. signification (the meaning and the value)
6. transformation (the continuous changes)
7. great way (the TAO).

We can apply these seven (7) headings

to the body,

to the mind,

to the spirit.

The Tarot cards are mnemonic means

arranged in three (3) rows of seven (7) cards:

1 to 7, 8 to 14, 15 to 21,

with choice, number 22.

Core Principles or The Foundational Basis of Life

---

This constitutes an enormous scheme enlargement
for most of us.

Open, allow, yield, receive.
Touch, soothe, relax, release, retrieve.

There are no regrets,
no resentment,
no remorse.

There is only:
admiration,
appreciation,
approval.

Nothing you have ever done or have ever been disqualifies you,
it only qualifies you,
by showing you: how things work.